Attacks By Peronists Crushed In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Armed Peronists struck at the big industrial city of Rosario and in the oil fields of northern Argentina Wednesday but were crushed, the government announced.

Political unrest and violence such as has plagued Central America and Venezuela came to this tinderbox nation, which has been relatively quiet in recent weeks. Authorities, however, saw no direct connection between the uprising here and those in sister Latin American republics.

An army communique said four persons were killed in a sharp pre-dawn attack on the guardhouse of an infantry regiment at Rosario. Witnesses said at least 10 were killed and 50 wounded.

The attack was led by Miguel Angel Inguez, an ousted general from the days of dictator Juan D. Peron. He fled in the darkness, leaving one of his lieutenants dead. The other three slain were members of the Rosario regiment.

The army said the attack was staged by 40 well-armed men and that 33 were captured. Other reports said there were 150 in the attacking band.

A small band tried to storm the San Lorenzo army arsenal near Rosario but was repulsed, official sources said.

While the uprising at Rosario was in progress, terrorist bombs damaged railway and communication systems around Buenos Aires.

Accused Police Killer Gives Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Albert E. Raymond, a former national amateur boxing champion accused of killing a policeman, surrendered Wednesday to the police.

Two Negro newspapermen accompanied the 28-year old Negro fugitive to City Hall where he surrendered to Chief Inspector John J. Kelly. A woman described as Raymond's common-law wife, and a 3-year-old girl said to be Raymond's daughter also were with him.

Cecil B. Moore, Raymond's lawyer, said that his client was prompted to surrender by newspaper reports of a surrender agreement and by fear that he might be shot if police found him.

Raymond had been sought since shortly after Patrolman William B. Powell's body was found in Powell's parked car before dawn on Nov. 19.

Snow Blankets Western Counties

By The Associated Press
Western Pennsylvania was coated with snow ranging from one to seven inches in depth Wednesday night.

Snow and ice covered roads made driving conditions hazardous throughout the western area. Drifting caused by high winds was reported in some areas.

Several accidents were reported by state police and traffic was snarled in many areas Wednesday night.

State Highways department crews were working on an around-the-clock basis in an attempt to curb the dangerous driving conditions.

From three to seven inches of snow had fallen in Crawford

County by early evening. Heavily congested traffic was reported on Route 8 between Titusville and Oil City where several tractor-trailer rigs had jackknifed.

State police at Greensburg reported only about an inch of snow in Westmoreland County but said that all roads were extremely icy.

McKean County had more than three inches of snow. Winds were causing drifting in some places.

Butler state police reported four minor accidents caused by slick roads in the county. From one to two inches of snow was reported.

About seven inches of snow was on the ground in the Erie area. All roads in Erie County were open.

Snow squalls whipping off the Great Lakes closed schools and industries in Buffalo, N.Y., and crippled traffic in other shoreline communities Wednesday as freezing cold gripped the northern part of the nation.

With a snowfall up to 18 inches, the Buffalo area struggled against drifts as high as 3½ feet. All Buffalo schools, including five colleges, were closed. The Buffalo International Airport suspended operations.

Six deaths in Upstate New York were attributed to the storms. In the Buffalo area, four persons collapsed and died after shoveling snow and one died after pushing a stalled car. Near Oswego, a motorist died in a car-train collision at a snow-covered crossing.

Buffalo, astride the eastern end of Lake Erie, and Watertown, N.Y., at the eastern end of Lake Ontario, braced Wednesday night for more snow. The rest of New York State was expected to get snow.

Five to six inches more were expected at Watertown — which had six inches on the ground.

Squalls continued dumping snow on the Ohio shore line of Lake Erie and Indiana communities near Lake Michigan. Gauley County, east of Cleveland, had five to six inches of snow. The city's eastern suburbs got three to five inches.

Homebound traffic in Cleveland was slow but fairly steady. Police estimated the snow caused delays up to 20 to 25 minutes during the rush hours.

Frost in Florida

Frost warnings were circulated Wednesday night for scattered Gulf areas from central Florida to southern Texas. The southern frost forecasts followed a day of sunny skies that raised temperatures into the mid 40s and 50s. Southern Florida had readings around 80.

Occasional snow flurries fell over the central Rockies. Rain and showers were general in the Pacific Northwest. Because of limited visibility and slippery surfaces the speed limit on the New York State Thruway, a toll road, was cut from its normal 60 m.p.h. for passenger cars to 35 m.p.h. from the Pennsylvania line to Rochester.

Continued cold was forecast for Thursday in Northern states with some moderation from the eastern slopes of the Rockies to the Mississippi. Much of the Dakotas had sub-zero temperatures Wednesday.

Castro's Physician Killed By Rebels

Students Fire On Troops In Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Die-hard leftist students rebelling against the government of President Romulo Betancourt opened fire on troops trying to oust them from entrenched positions inside Caracas University Wednesday.

One student was killed and at least two others were wounded in the fighting.

The university had been spared previous police intervention because of its status as a traditional academic sanctuary.

The University council which runs the university also told the students to leave the building and closed the school. The council said the action was taken to get the university out of the violence.

Snipers from their stronghold in the unfinished pharmacy school had kept harassing loyal army troops that came into range.

The students seized the building at the beginning of the outbreak against Betancourt last Friday. The gun battle broke out when the president ordered the university evacuated and the leftists defied National Guard troops. Some observers said the students appeared to be armed with machine-guns.

Apparently only the traditional Latin-American respect for universities and churches as places of refuge and asylum prevented Betancourt from acting earlier to meet the persistent student threat.

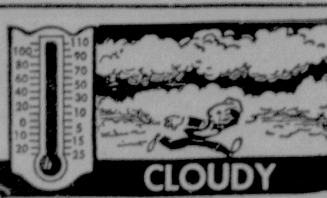

Dumont To Run For Governor

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — State Sen. Wayne Dumont Jr., of Warren County, Wednesday formally announced he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in 1961.

He is the first to announce he will seek the nomination. State Sen. Walter H. Jones, of Bergen County is expected to announce his candidacy in the near future.

The Phillipsburg Republican indicated his campaign would center on the problem of how to pay for what he considered badly needed new educational, institutional highway and water supply facilities.

Greater Part Of Ransom Is Recovered

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The FBI said Wednesday it has recovered, in a Los Angeles motel, $100,000 of the $200,000 paid to ransom Tony Alessio, a wealthy sportsman who was kidnapped last week.

The motel room, agents said, was once occupied by Frank Marrone, alleged ringleader of the kidnap gang, who was arrested Tuesday on a Los Angeles street. About $33,000 in ransom money had already been recovered with the arrest of Marrone and four others.

Alessio, one of seven brothers prominent in Southern California business circles, was kidnapped in San Diego at gunpoint by two men on Nov. 22, and released unharmed after 24 hours when relatives paid the ransom.

The latest recovery, the FBI said, brings the total of money recovered to $182,515. The apartment motel in which it was found was about 31 blocks from the point at which Marrone was picked up.

The money, agents said, was hidden in an inner panel on the inside of a refrigerator door.

The largest previous recovery was $77,321, obtained with the arrest of another suspect, Robert James Gorman.

Held in addition to Marrone and Gorman are Marrone's wife Selma, 25; Gorman's wife, Ruby, 30; and Richard Lee Hoffman, 24. All have been turned over to San Diego authorities for prosecution on kidnap charges.

Woman Dies Of Injuries

Federal Court Lifts Bar To Desegregation

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Federal judges hammered down all Louisiana barriers to school integration Wednesday, then approved a 12-year stair-step plan of integration for Dallas public schools.

Blistering demonstrations by New Orleans housewives, trying to block white children from attending integrated schools, grew in scope and intensity.

Police had to protect one mother whose child is one of two still attending the William Frantz school.

Against this background of violent feelings, the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans stamped its approval on a plan that in its original form called for desegregation of the first grade in Dallas in September, 1961. It calls for the addition of another grade each year until all 12 elementary and secondary grades have been integrated.

The appeals court added: "We do not mean to approve the stair-step plan insofar as it postpones full integration."

In Baton Rouge, state legislators set the stage for a possible statewide private school system.

Within hours after the court ruling nullifying down continuation of school integration in Louisiana, the House received a bill to set up a new system of grants-in-aid to enable school children to attend private schools.

The boycott of the integrated schools tightened, leaving the four 6-year-old Negro girls virtually in segregation for the third day this week. Only two white girls attended William Frantz; none McDonogh No. 19 school.

A three-judge federal court ordered integration to proceed as decreed by U.S. District Court.

The judges leveled the barrier of interposition—a theory under which the state places its sovereignty between the federal government and the people.

"The conclusion is clear," read the judges' unanimous 5,000-word ruling, "that interposition is not a constitutional doctrine."

When interposition fell so did 39 segregation bills passed by an angry Louisiana Legislature in special session.

"Without support of the interposition act, the rest of the segregation 'package' passed by the

Thousands Send Greetings

They All Love Winnie

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill, recovering from a broken bone in his back, celebrated his 86th birthday quietly with his family and thousands of absent friends Wednesday.

Churchill got up for lunch, puffed a cigar and then sent out a special message of thanks to well-wishers the world over.

Greetings and presents from many lands flooded the aged statesman. President Eisenhower sent greetings and a "get well" message—as did the bricklayer's union.

Queen Elizabeth II was among the well-wishers, and so was the local junk man, Chris Shepherd. There were greetings from Prime Minister Macmillan and the boy down the block.

Delivery trucks rolled up with flowers by the basket, the box and legislature falls of its own weight," the three judges said. The judges threw out what they called "a series of measures which purport to abolish the Orleans Parish School Board."

They also issued temporary injunctions to keep Gov. Jimmie H. Davis and practically every state official from interfering. These officials had for some time been under temporary restraining orders of a like nature.

Freighter Goes Aground In Gale

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Smashed by gale winds and high seas, the Liberian freighter Francisco Morazan, grounded with 14 persons aboard fought to live out a furious Lake Michigan storm Wednesday.

One of those aboard the vessel crippled off South Manitou Island in upper Lake Michigan was the captain's wife, an expectant mother.

The U. S. Coast Guard, with planes and rescue ships at the scene, held out hope that the Morazan would survive.

Bound from Chicago to Rotterdam with a general cargo, the 246-foot vessel ran aground in 14 feet of water Tuesday night when caught in the gale and a whirling snow storm.

Capt. Eduardo Trizizas' first distress call was received at the Coast Guard air station at 8:48 p.m. Tuesday.

At mid-afternoon Wednesday the Morazan was taking on more water in all her holds but apparently was in no great danger despite the continuing storm.

Three Coast Guard cutters stood by and two helicopters and a plane circled overhead, watching her carefully.

The Coast Guard had to decide whether to attempt to remove the crew and the captain's wife by helicopter or boat, or whether to let the Morazan try to wait out the blow. Each possible course of action presented hazards.

Waves 15 to 25 feet high smashed at the ship, driving her repeatedly against the rocks on which she grounded. An ice-cold wind hit speeds of 50 miles an hour at times. Temperatures were in the mid-20s.

Despite the intermittent snow

At the uptown home of Dr. James F. Redmond, superintendent of schools, and at his downtown office, post office employees delivered hundreds of plain envelopes, each containing a $1 bill. The money was started flowing by a group that wanted to show their respect for him.

The legislature, which finally came up with the November pay of the city's teachers, failed to pay Redmond.

Clues Found In Slaying

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A message scrawled in lipstick and a knife coated with dried blood provided what police described Wednesday as meager clues in the slaying of a college student and the disappearance of his girl friend.

Police said they still had nothing solid to go on as they continued their search for Beverly Allan, 19, of Port Townsend, Wash., over nine square miles of timber-covered hills on the outskirts of Portland.

It was in a lover's lane in those hills that police Sunday night found the body of Larry Ralph Peyton, 19, of Portland. He had been stabbed 23 times. In the car was Miss Allan's blood-soaked jacket. In the lane police found her glasses and part of a necklace.

Saboteurs Stage Series Of Bombings

HAVANA (AP) — Saboteurs' bombs struck paralyzing blows in Havana Wednesday. And in central Cuba, Prime Minister Fidel Castro's personal physician was killed in a chase after rebels.

Eight bombs, touched off in early morning, damaged power and water installations and cut off electricity to the city's business district and many other areas of the capital. Two government-controlled newspapers, Combate and Avance, lost their power.

Power was restored to most darkened areas Wednesday night.

Anti-Castro Bombings

As authorities pressed an investigation of the bold series of bombings by anti-Castro elements and strove to restore power, the city was shaken by two more bombs at noon.

One destroyed a rest room and blew out the windows in the headquarters of Castro's urban reform program. The second blew up near the Tropical brewery. There were no deaths, but one of the morning bombs seriously injured a Cuban.

An official announcement said Maj. Manuel Fajardo, Castro's physician, was killed Tuesday night outside Trinidad, center of government activity against insurgents in the Escambray Mountains.

Fajardo, commanding rural militia in Escambray, was pursuing five armed Cubans who had fled Trinidad in a commandeered car.

The announcement said two of the five were captured and, in the confused firing in pursuit of a third, Fajardo was killed and three of his militiamen were wounded. This indicated Fajardo may have been shot by his own men.

Fajardo was a rebel military doctor in the war against ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista. He took over treatment of Castro when the prime minister was stricken with pneumonia last summer.

Lions Endorse Planning Commission

STROUDSBURG Lions, after hearing an address by Michael Cabot of Candeb and Associates, Scranton, at their Tuesday night meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel, formally endorsed the forming of a planning commission for this area.

In the business session, Chairman Robert Haigh of the children's Christmas party committee, reported the event will be held Tuesday night, Dec. 28, at the Penn-Stroud.

Lion President Dr. Paul Maxwell stressed the possibility of better and closer cooperation among the service clubs in public work. He said he is convinced that things have not happened that can happen with better cooperation. It is proposed to set up a coordinating committee to consist of first of the presidents and secretaries of the several service clubs. Cooperation was pledged.

Ehrgood Honored
Fred Ehrgood received his certificate as an old monarch; Gail Fegley his certificate as a key member, and John Dunkelberger one for perfect attendance.

Jack Bohan pledged to supply the candy for the Children's party as he did last year.

Cabot stated that an increasing use of municipal zoning and district planning is being forced on municipalities by what he termed the "population explosion" meaning population increase and necessity for housing and many functional facilities.

Redevelopment in community organization is often needed and may be handled by boards appointed on a county basis. Several communities may work together or a single community may take the initiative in planning, as in the case of East Stroudsburg.

2 Youths Transferred To Camp Hill

CLINT R. DIEHL, 18, of East Stroudsburg RD 3, and Joseph Hardy, 20, of 119 N. Ninth St., Stroudsburg, will be transferred to Camp Hill, State Institution of Correction today Monroe County Sheriff Jacob F. Altmease, announced.

Accompanying the youths to Camp Hill will be Sheriff Altmease and a deputy sheriff.

The transfers comply with sentences handed down by Monroe Judge Fred W. Davis in action taken by the court, Nov. 23, when the pair pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and larceny.

Survey Report Seen Incorrect

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Reading Railroad said Wednesday a city transit engineer's testimony buses could not service passengers now carried by the Reading on a weekday round trip between Bethlehem, Pa., and Philadelphia, was incorrect.

The Reading is seeking permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to halt service on the line which it says is only lightly patronized.

Edson L. Tennyson testified Tuesday the train the Reading wants to drop handles 75,000 passengers a year. The Reading said Wednesday that less than 25,000 passengers annually use the line between Bethlehem and Lansdale, the section where buses would be used.

From Lansdale to Philadelphia the Reading would continue to use trains under its proposal before the ICC. It said the number of persons could be serviced comfortably by bus.

Bonds Reduced Men Charged In Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The bonds of two men charged with kidnaping a Steubenville, Ohio, physician were reduced from $50,000 apiece to $10,000 Wednesday following a closed hearing in a federal judge's chambers.

Judge John W. McIlvaine of U. S. District Court told newsmen later:

"From the facts brought out at the hearing, I believe the statements need not be made public at this time, since it would cause undue embarrassment to those involved."

The defendants, Peter L. Rizzo, 21, and Anthony Pizzuto, 24, both of New York, were released after posting the reduced bond.

The pair waived hearings before a U. S. commissioner last week and are now awaiting federal grand jury action on charges of kidnaping Dr. Ralph M. Rea on Nov. 16.

Pennsy Rails Declares 25 Cents Share Dividend

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad Wednesday declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, keeping unbroken its dividend payment record, which now stands at 113 years.

The PRR also announced that effective Jan. 1, salary slashes of five to 30 per cent imposed on officers, supervisors and certain other employees last Sept. 16, would be restored.

Outlook Uncertain
The cuts were imposed, the PRR said, to help meet money problems resulting largely from the 12-day strike of shopcraft employees in September.

30 Tribesmen Die In Battle

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — A U. N. company of 100 Nigerian soldiers, just three days in Katanga Province, opened up with deadly Sten guns when tribesmen tried to ambush them yesterday. A Katanga government spokesman said 30 tribesmen were killed.

The scene of the battle, with warrior bows and arrows against high powered weapons, was 300 miles north of here in central Katanga. Reports reaching Elisabethville Tuesday said only four Nigerians were wounded.

said the business outlook for 1961 still is uncertain, but "conditions have shown enough improvement to warrant restoration of full salaries."

Regarding the dividend, Board Chairman James M. Symes said that although the PRR faces a loss for the year, "the directors were influenced primarily by the consideration that the return the stockholders received on their investment during the past two years has been very small."

"We believe that at least some payment to shareholders should be made this year, even though not earned."

Last Deficit '46
Symes said the PRR had only one other deficit in its history, $8,530,300 in 1946.

Symes said this has been a poor year for the PRR for two primary reasons: a fall off in the level of business, particularly in steel freight because of the decline in steel production, and the strike which halted all operations of the PRR.

The dividend is payable Dec. 30 to stockholders of record Dec. 12.

It's Time To Act

At least one American university has taken steps to end a situation which it says has grown into serious proportions in recent years. The University of Illinois has announced it will no longer accept illiterate freshmen.

The school is discarding its intensified one-semester course in English in which it has tried to teach incoming students what they should have learned about reading and writing their native tongue in 12 years of grade and high school.

(Last year more than 25 percent of the freshman class enrolled in this special course).

The decision has been made not only in the interest of the university, but also in the interest of the freshmen themselves. Many of them flunked out anyway despite all the extra effort.

It should be recognized that high schools did these young people no favor by granting them unearned diplomas.

Colleges cannot be expected to let them continue kidding themselves that they are getting an education. So it's time to clamp down.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Expanding An Alliance

Senator Johnson, visiting Paris, has revived the old idea of giving "new dimensions" to N.A.T.O. More specifically, the thought is to go beyond the alliance's military functions and build it into an agency for dispensing economic aid around the world.

Now, if one is talking about the need for West European nations to provide more aid to underdeveloped countries so as to reduce the drain on the U.S. that is desirable as far as it goes.

Even if the Europeans decline to do more, the U.S. will probably decline to do more, the U.S. will probably be forced to cut back anyhow, since it cannot continue to run enormous deficits in its balance of international payments.

But all that, it seems to us, has little indeed to do with NATO as an organization. The alliance was set up for one purpose only—to deter Soviet aggression against Western Europe and, if necessary, to help defend Western Europe against such aggression. That is a clear purpose and, we should imagine, one still worth pursuing.

Thus NATO by its nature is a regional grouping, not a world organization. To try to imbue it with worldwide aims is to confuse its real function and in all likelihood reduce its effectiveness.

It might also be noted that NATO still has some problems in its own back-yard. Some observers have long thought it is not as strong as it should be, especially with much of the French contingent in Algeria.

And unquestionably the U.S., through all these years, has had to bear a disproportionate share of the cost of supporting it, a burden no longer tolerable for this country.

So before the U.S. starts pushing NATO toward dreams of global help, it should pause to recall where charity begins.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Gold Rush

Let us look at this gold problem realistically and analyze the facts no matter how unpleasant:

1. We need first of all, to analyze what the various countries owe to us and on what terms. These agreements are not always public nor do the available data explain quite what the amounts are, when they are due, in what form they are to be paid.

If we can get back what is owing to us in gold, we shall undoubtedly find a large addition to our gold stocks.

2. What is our government doing about "hot money"? Several years ago, I raised the question of "hot money" and a Senate committee began to make an investigation. But it was soon called off. The "hot money" runs into billions.

What is "hot money"?

There are several kinds, the most usual being money deposited abroad for purposes of tax evasion and tax avoidance. Considerable sums, running into billions of dollars, are on deposit in Switzerland, Nassau, Venezuela, Panama, and Hongkong.

Furthermore, a study needs to be made of the shift around of dollars between the United States and Canada involving such commodities as newspaper, craft paper, whisky and other liquors. The hidden money is not limited to the illegally possessed funds of racketeers but involves many of the most respectable men in business and banking.

The probability is that if the United States were able to call in funds hidden away or if our currency, which is now green, were printed red or purple and 50 days were allowed for the change-over from one colored currency to another, those who evaded taxes by hiding their money abroad, would be sore put to it to become honest men.

For whoever possessed the green currency, after a certain date, would find it convertible only by the Federal Reserve Bank which would demand a full explanation as to the source of the funds and why no taxes were paid on them. This would bring the government an enormous return, all from abroad.

"Hot money" classically is money from gambling, from bootlegging, from taking cash under the table in commercial transactions, etc., etc. Whoever owns "hot money" faces the problem of legitimizing it.

One may have millions stuck away in a Swiss bank but there comes a time when it must be used in legitimate transactions to be useful. This is no easy matter. If one holds such "hot money" in the United States, unless it be of a very small amount, it becomes a menace. He cannot get rid of it; he cannot use it; it might be stolen or burned or lost. Therefore, the smart owner of such money finds a way to get it out of the country.

Switzerland offers an excellent haven for such crookedness. A Swiss bank will hold a nameless account to which is given a number and nobody in the bank but its most confidential officers will know whose account it is. The bank will then undertake to "manage" the money for a fee.

Such management is not in the owner's name but is in the name of a Swiss bank or a Swiss lawyer. Thus the money, stolen though it may be, is legitimized. It owns American securities or American business houses or American land, or for that matter, similar properties in other countries.

The beneficial owners are never disclosed. Swiss laws protecting the anonymity of the owners of this money.

Thus far, the government of the United States has never been able to break through this secrecy. It cannot discover the names of the Americans who are robbing the government of the United States.

Switzerland's non-cooperative-ness in this is not unique. None of the tax haven countries cooperate with the United States. Much can be done.

For instance, the withdrawal of green money say in 6 days and the rejection of such money without adequate explanation as to its original source and evidence of the payment of income tax. The Swiss banks would be clogged with unusable American dollars.

Of course, the exchange value of the green dollar would temporarily fall. The only ones to suffer would be the thieves who eluded their due responsibility as citizens by hiding their money abroad. An honest man would lose nothing because he could convert from green dollars to red or purple dollars without the slightest difficulty.

"Where Do You Get That Golden Retriever Stuff?"

The Pennsylvania Story

What Now?

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Is the barn door destined to be slammed shut on Capitol Hill — insofar as the public's right to know is concerned?

The question is appropriate at the present time even though a definitive answer will not be forthcoming before next May when Pennsylvania's two newly elected fiscal officers take over.

When Pennsylvania's voters last month elected Democratic candidates to the offices of State Treasurer and State Auditor General, they inadvertently perhaps set the stage for an interesting and critical determination as to which way the barn door will swing insofar as the two fiscal officers are concerned — open or closed.

Reason for this is simple. During the past four years the fiscal officers have been held by anti-administration Republicans — State Auditor General Charles C. Smith and State Treasurer Robert F. Kent.

Seeking to swap the fiscal posts, they lost last month to Democratic candidate for Auditor General Thomas Z. Minihart and running mate Mrs. Grace M. Sloan for State Treasurer.

Republican fiscal overlords Smith and Kent during their tenures have held the barn door wide open. This in itself was perhaps a natural "political consequence" inasmuch as Democrats ruled the roost elsewhere in the administrative and executive departments on Capitol Hill.

Thus the political motive for the open door policy in readily permitting the public to know what was going on in the (Democratic) executive branch was obvious.

But there is another consideration of greater importance.

In the 1957 session of the Legislature — and it was in 1957 that Republican fiscalmen Smith and Kent moved into office — an "open records" law spelling out the public's right-to-know was enacted.

Thus in effect the swinging into office of the two Republican fiscal officers and enactment of the "open records" law occurred during the same year.

Significantly, the two Republican fiscal officers have been prone to give a liberal interpretation of the new open-records law with the result that during the past three years virtually every fiscal transaction carried on by both the former Democratic Leader Administration and the current Democratic Lawrence Administration has been open to public questioning and view.

This has brought about considerable teeth-grinding from time to time on the part of Democratic administration stalwarts, who sporadically have bitterly protested this open barn door stand by the two GOP fiscal officers.

To cite a somewhat picaresque illustration: Auditor General Smith's department always has made available to the public the amount to be paid individual property owners for right-of-way acquisitions by the State Department of Highways.

In the early days this was sharply protested by Democratic administration forces contending (somehow) that it isn't the public's right to know what a fellow property owner is being paid from public funds.

To the credit of Auditor General Smith the protests fell on deaf ears. Whether fiscalman Smith was motivated by political considerations is somewhat beside the point. The fact remains that the transaction obviously was one in the public interest, or more bluntly put — the public's right to know.

Will the new incoming state fiscal officers of the same political faith as that of the administration in power follow the already established policy — or is the barn door destined to be slammed shut on the public's right-to-know?

The final answer will be forthcoming in terms of "deeds" of the two new fiscal officers after they assume office in May — not in "words" they may utter prior to that time.

The Allen-Scott Report

May Free Americans

By Robert S. Allen, and Paul Scott

Washington — There is an outside chance Red China has at long last decided to liberate the five Americans serving long sentences on phony spy charges.

Basis of this glimmer of hope is a meeting in Warsaw this week between Ambassador Jacob Beam and Ambassador Wang Ping-nan — the 102nd of these deliberations that have been underway since September 1955.

Because the Communist envoy sought this latest session, hope has revived that the long-imprisoned Americans may be freed.

When he submitted this request to Beam last week, Wang Ping-nan gave no hint as to the reason for it. They last met on October 16, without any results or the slightest indication that other meetings would be any more productive.

State Department authorities conjecture that with the Christmas season approaching, Peiping may be preparing to make a spectacular propaganda gesture by liberating the imprisoned readily admitted this is merely a surmise.

Secretary of State Herter has directed Ambassador Beam, in his conference with Wang Ping-nan, to again stress the following three U.S. stands:

(1) Release of the five Americans; (2) exchange of newspaper correspondents with no strings attached; (3) renunciation of the use of armed force in the Formosa area. The Reds have persistently balked at all these demands.

President-elect Kennedy has been apprized of the latest Warsaw meeting and approves of it.

He is also represented as favoring continuing these discussions, but possibly on a different level. Beyond that general thought, his views haven't crystallized. But it is a problem he plans to ask his secretary of state to personally consider and submit recommendations.

During the course of these five-year-old exchanges, the Communists have twice tried to shift them to the foreign ministers level.

They first proposed this while the talks were being held in Prague. The late Secretary John Foster Dulles indicated he might consider that if the Reds first liberated the five Americans and renounced the use of armed force in the Formosa Strait.

Peiping wouldn't agree, and nothing came of the matter.

When Secretary Herter succeeded Dulles, the Communists again attempted to raise the protracted discussions to the ministerial level. But Herter reiterated Dulles' requirements, and the Reds once more refused to meet them.

The five-year-old meetings were agreed to by the U.S. on assurances that all American prisoners would be freed. Twenty three were released in 1955, within a few months after the talks started. But the Communists have steadfastly refused to liberate the other five on the ground they were convicted of espionage.

The parents of two of them, John Thomas Downey, New Britain, Conn.; and Richard Fecteau, Lynn, Mass., have been admitted to China to visit them. Downey and Fecteau are Army civilian employees who were captured during the Korean war. Charged with being spies, Downey was sentenced for life, and Fecteau given 20 years.

The other prisoners are Bishop Walsh, Washington, D.C.; H.F. Redmond, Yonkers, N.Y.; and Robert McCann, Altadena, Calif. Redmond and McCann are businessmen who also were accused of espionage. The former got life, and the latter 15 years.

Growing Red Strength — Red China has reorganized its air force into two major units — a regular airforce, and air defense corps. The first consists of 10 air armies, of around 300 planes each.

Each army is made up of air divisions, groups and squadrons whose principal planes are MIG-17s and MIG-19s. They also have some MIG-21s, comparable to U.S. "Century series" fighters. The air defense corps has four branches — anti-aircraft artillery, searchlight units, signal organizations, and Intelligence.

The corps has 10 divisions of these units, which are deployed chiefly along the seacoast and around major industrial centers. Headquarters of the corps is in Peiping.

That mystery-cloaked Communist party summit conference that has been sitting in Moscow is actually the third since last June when Soviet and Red China differences became pronounced. The first of these secret deliberations met in Bucharest, and the second in Prague, without results at either.

Kennedy Cabinet — Adlai Stevenson has quietly bought a house in historic Georgetown. Exactly what this means is conjectural. It could mean he is to be named to the Kennedy cabinet — or some other high office.

Gov. Luther Hodges is the only one who so far has been offered and has accepted a place in the Kennedy cabinet. The North Carolinian will be Secretary of Commerce. As of now, there are no other definite selections for the cabinet.

Driver Unhurt In Rollover

STANLEY E. Anthony, 21, of Northampton, escaped injury yesterday at 9:30 p.m. when his car rolled over on Route 209 about three and a half miles west of Stroudsburg.

Anthony told State Police that he was travelling at approximately 53 miles per hour when he ran off the right side of the highway about 150 yards west of the intersection at Shaffer's School House.

Thrown On Side

In his attempt to bring the car back on the highway the car was thrown on its side and rolled one and a half times across the highway coming to a stop in a field along side the road.

Police estimated the damage at $300. Anthony will be charged with reckless driving.

Police Say Man Admits Killing

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A Lycoming County jury was told Wednesday that a man accused of the rifle slaying of his wife last Sept. 21 signed a statement admitting the shooting.

The accused man, Richard F. Coffey Jr., 31, Williamsport, has pleaded innocent of the charges.

Detective Alex T. Bacsics, who investigated the case for the state police, told the jury of seven women and five men that Coffey had agreed to write and sign the statement soon after his wife, Norma, 31, died on the premise he could put "exactly what he wanted into it."

Coffey's defense counsel said he would not challenge admission of the statement as evidence in the case as long as police officials insisted that Coffey was not under any medication at the time he wrote it.

Honesdale Firm Gets Contract

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department Wednesday awarded the Irwin Construction Co., Inc., of Honesdale a $30,601 contract for work on a legislative route bridge over Hokenadqua Creek in Northampton County.

Hospital Trustee

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence Wednesday appointed Phillip Fitelson of Mountain Top R.D. 4, Luzerne County, as a member of the board of trustees of Retreat State Hospital.

Hospitals Seek 3-Level Government Aid

GOVERNMENT at three levels will be asked by the Hospital Association of Pennsylvania to share in reimbursing Pennsylvania's voluntary hospitals for their full costs of caring for indigent inpatients. The association, representing 263 hospitals, will ask the 1961 Legislature to make these appropriations to provide 1.6 million days of care for indigent and medically indigent persons; $6.6 million for persons 65 years of age and over; $16.5 million for persons under 65 years of age.

For persons 65 and over the association will ask the State to qualify under the Federal Kerr-Mills program. By appropriating $6.6 million to the Department of Public Welfare the Legislature would make it possible for Pennsylvania to secure $6.6 million of Federal matching funds and permit the department to purchase inpatient hospital care for persons 65 and older at full cost for a total of $13.2 million.

Since Pennsylvania is presently spending $5,838,000 on the 65-and-over group for care in voluntary hospitals, an additional appropriation of only $762,000 would be necessary for the State to provide full-cost reimbursement to hospitals, including sectarian institutions.

No State Grants

At present sectarian hospitals receive no state grants because of constitutional prohibitions.

tion, with local volunteer Red Cross workers assisting the blood center director in taking a pint of blood from a Kiwanian.

Chairman Himself

There was a blood donor, of course, and that person was the president-chairman himself — Allen W. Keiper.

Dr. Gordon Bell, of Wilkes-Barre, who heads the regional blood center, presided at the demonstration. Volunteers who served were Mrs. Walter Dreher, head of volunteer services of the Red Cross chapter, coordinator; Mrs. Thomas Shoemith, R.N., case history; Mrs. John Stanford, canteen, and Mrs. Russell Harmon, a Grey Lady who acted as receptionist.

Mrs. Charles Mott, chapter executive director, was a guest at the meeting.

Dr. Bell explained that the center provides 40,000 pints of blood a year to meet the needs of Northeastern Pennsylvania residents. The average person receives from two to three pints in his lifetime which means, Dr. Bell explained, that the average person must donate that amount in the same period. The blood center was founded 10 years ago.

GSA To Sell $25 Million In New Bonds

HARRISBURG (AP)—Plans for the sale of $25 million worth of bonds next spring have been approved by the General State Authority.

The action authorized the authority staff to prepare documents for the sale which also will require approval by the authority board at future meetings.

The tentative time schedule approved by the board calls for receipt of bids March 14 and signing of the bonds April 6.

This would make the money available for the authority's project fund by April 11.

On the basis of expenditures of about $3 million per month, the authority estimated that by March 31, 1961, its project fund would amount to $10,095,000.

It said the money would be needed to keep the project fund balance from becoming too low.

Chronic Disease Death Toll Rises

HARRISBURG (AP)—Deaths from chronic diseases in Pennsylvania are running ahead of the national average, State Health Secretary Charles L. Wilbar said yesterday.

Wilbar said one of the major challenges in the public health field is to educate the public—particularly older persons—to seek early treatment of diseases such as heart trouble, cancer, diabetes and tuberculosis.

"Although Pennsylvania comes very close to the national rate of deaths from other diseases, we're getting worse in the area of chronic diseases and these are the diseases of the day," said Wilbar.

Plans Mushroom For New Hospital

HARRISBURG (AP)—Construction plans for a new $6.6 million hospital for this city's mushrooming West Shore suburbs were disclosed Wednesday.

Bids will be advertised by Dec. 15. The hospital, operated by the Roman Catholic Sisters of Christian Charity, should be ready for use by early 1963. Patients will be admitted without regard to religious denomination.

to provide full-cost reimbursement to hospitals for eligible inpatients under 65 years, the organization will recommend continuation of the 40-year-old system of state-aid grants, but with one addition for matching local governments' appropriations to individual hospitals.

The Legislature, which has given strong bi-partisan support to this system, will be asked to appropriate $11 million for payments at the rate of $11 per day, or half of the average ward cost, directly to voluntary hospitals. Approximately one million days of care will be rendered during the coming year for this group of needy and medically needy persons.

Plans Outlined For New Armory

THE possibility of a New National Guard armory for Monroe County was aired at the recent meeting of the Pocono Mountain Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. Gerald E. Shanley, Jr., commanding officer of Co. "A," First Battle Group, 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, informed the group of the factors involved for such construction.

He outlined the following procedures which must be met before the plan becomes a reality: "1. An outright donation of 10 acres of land by a citizen, group of citizens, a borough or by the county to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

"2. An appraisal and approval of the land grant in accordance with the requirements needed for construction of the building and a suitable training area.

First Step

"3. The information is forwarded to the National Guard Bureau as the first step prior to the approval of construction.

"4. When the foregoing steps are accomplished, the next step is for state Legislature and Department of Military Affairs to request for bids and granting of contracts."

It was reported that the Federal government subsidize the construction with 70 per cent of the total cost and the Commonwealth would contribute the remaining 30 per cent.

It was stated that the construction of the armory, as needed in Monroe County, would cost approximately $300,000.

Bridge Opening Delayed

INCLEMENT weather has delayed the opening of the new Broad St. Bridge, it was learned yesterday.

A spokesman for J. H. Beers, Inc., constructors of the bridge, reported that unfavorable weather has curtailed progress. He said warmer weather, around 40 degrees or more, is needed in order to permit black topping of the surface. The finishing job, which will take about one day to complete, will begin as soon as the weather permits, he stated.

It was also reported that Seventh St. Bridge will be closed to traffic for "several months" after the opening of the Broad St. span. Traffic will be detoured over Broad St.

No Bears Killed On Third Day

MONROE County Game Protectors John Deebing and John Spencer reported late last night no reports of bear killings were received yesterday, the third day of the season.

During the first two days 15 bears were reported killed in the county.

The largest kill, thus far, was a 300 pounder shot by Irvin Bush, 1904 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, on Brushy Mountain. Bush killed the bear Monday.

No gun has been found. The bullet was of .32 or .38 caliber. Cavaghan's body was found by his partner of 30 years, William F. Brett.

A widower, Cavaghan lived with a married daughter.

Czech Nazi Foe To Speak At College Convocation

THE Entertainment Council will present Col. J. J. Sustar today at 10 a. m. in the college auditorium in another of a series of convocation programs. The public is invited to be guests of the council at this performance.

Col. Sustar, a native of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire, is college trained in political science and journalism, and is a world-wide traveler. He served with the Czechoslovak military and diplomatic forces until the Germans invaded his country in World War II. At this time, he joined the underground.

Sustar's experiences run the gamut from patriotic military service to master-minding the assassination of S. S. Gen. Reinhard Heydrich, the Gestapo "butcher." In his identification with the underground, he performed invaluable services to the Allies.

Price on Capture
His services to the anti-Nazi forces were so important that a price of 10 million kronen was set for his capture. Finally captured by the Nazis, he escaped from a death cell to continue his resistance operations in exile.

The speaker is world renowned as a soldier, diplomat, and freedom leader. He has been in service in China, Turkey, Greece, Iran, Egypt, and the Soviet Union. And has lived in exile in Yugoslavia, Palestine and England. Following the death of Gen. Heydrich, Sustar's family was executed by the Nazis. After the Communists took over Czechoslovakia, he was again a hunted man but managed to escape with his wife and child.

American Citizen
Now an American citizen, Col. Sustar spends much of his time informing people of the United States about the facts of the "cold war."

Joseph Kennedy Sees Grandson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grandpa Kennedy got his first peek Tuesday at his new grandson, John F. Kennedy Jr.

And Joseph P. Kennedy's reaction after seeing his 19th grandchild was what you'd expect a proud grandfather to say: "Looks great, looks fine. Marvelous."

Reporters asked whether, as the father of nine children, he had any advice for John Jr.'s dad, the president-elect.

"No, I think he's done all right, don't you?" said Kennedy.

Trucker Escapes Injury

MILFORD — Richard Gallagher, 57, of 3350 Birney Ave., Scranton, escaped injury when the truck he was driving hit a guard rail, went over an embankment and overturned on Route 6, about 10 miles west of here, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Lost Control
State Police said Gallagher lost control of the vehicle on a curve. It was owned by Lewis Strauss, 731 Jefferson Ave., Scranton, and loaded with onions.

Troopers said the vehicle was a total loss.

High School Teen-Agers Don't Figure They'll Be Hurt By Smut

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth
Research Co.

MOST of you young folks tell me that smutty novels, movies and songs are doing you no harm.

I was much interested in this view, which sums up the results of more than 1,000 interviews across the country, because adults often seem worried about what effect such material has on the younger generation.

"Sex is out in the open, but it isn't hurting us," is the answer I get from four-fifths of you.

It just may be that the old folks see smut where none exists—or at least where their sons and daughters don't see it. Only a fifth of you teenagers regard many pop songs as suggestive. The figures on movies and novels are more impressive, but still only 58 per cent of you think that many movies are suggestive, and only 68 per cent so regard many popular novels.

Granted that a movie or book has a bad reputation, what do you do about it? Rush out to see it or read it? Not if you act like most teen-agers tell me they act.

Most say they don't go out of their way to take in such stuff. And far more assure me that they are positively repelled rather than attracted.

In any case, 80 or 90 per cent assert that such entertainment and reading material has no bad influence either on them or on their friends.

"I feel I am old enough and mature enough to screen out junk and treat it as such," comments Gilda Rubinstein, 16, of New Rochelle, N.Y.

No Time for Smut
Let's see what you young people say about current movies:

"Movie makers seem to think they have to have suggestive things in it to get publicity," Sharon Wilson, 16, Faribault, Minn.

"I don't go to the movies very often but when I do I want to see a picture I will enjoy and not be embarrassed by saying I saw it," Harriet Hull, West Goshen, Conn.

"I know my standards and if a movie could change them, I'd better re-evaluate myself," Lorraine Jokinen, 15, Detroit.

About novels you say:
"They go into unnecessary details concerning sex," Della Felix, 14, Atlanta.

"I feel I can read better books than the suggestive ones," Lilly Meier, 13, San Francisco.

"With school work and all I have to do there is little enough time for reading and so I choose only books of definite merit," Fred Sidell, 15, Miami.

Suzann Haskett, 17, South Bend, Ind., speaks for the 17 per cent of you who say you read racy novels:

"Everyone is talking about this book. They say the book is dirty and you want to be able to talk about it, too, so you read the book."

The story is diffent when we come to the music you like—rock 'n' roll.

Parents Not Dated
Only 20 percent of you find many pop songs suggestive, only 6 percent of you look for the suggestive in these songs and just 2 out of 100 feel a suggestive song would have any influence on you.

In rising to the defense of your popular songs, you often remark that you dance to rock 'n' roll—you don't analyze its good or bad lyrics and when you're listening to rock 'n' roll, you just let it go in one ear and out the other. Another remark heard often is "Most of the words don't make sense—I just like rock 'n' roll."

Seventy-four percent of the young people we talked to feel there is no need for laws against suggestive movies, songs and novels. And, in fact, if there were such laws, you say, they probably wouldn't be enforced.

Most of the interviewed—63 percent of those interviewed—said their parents' attitude on suggestive movies, music and fiction is neutral. Ninety-one percent approve their parents' attitude and don't consider their viewpoints old fashioned.

Questions Asked
Are many movies suggestive? Are you more or less apt to see them? Have they a bad influence on you? On your friends? Are many pop songs suggestive? Are you more or less apt to look for them? Have they a bad influence on you? On your friends? Are many popular novels suggestive? Are you more or less apt to read them? Have they a bad influence on you? On your friends? Should there be laws? Could they be enforced? What is your parents' attitude? Are they out of date?

Also named officers during the school term were Judy Wreski, vice president; Susan Akers, secretary; Donnk Henwood, treasurer; Ann Randall, student council representative.

Adolph Caprioli is advisor.

Stack The Deck

Dear Abby: Have you any advice for a man who is married to a woman who spends every afternoon (and half her evenings) playing poker? We've been married for two years and I am getting tired of it.

POKER WIDOWER

Dear POKER WIDOWER: Deal her a full house!

Dear Abby: I answered the phone last night and a man on the other end said, "Ask Rudy to call Hazel in half an hour." My husband's name is Rudy, so like a fool I gave him the message.

He wouldn't use the phone at home. He left and called her. When he came back I asked who Hazel was. He didn't even answer me.

That night I heard him say in his sleep, "But you're another man's wife and what are we kids to do about the kids?"

Do you think there is another woman in the picture? We've been married 12 years, have 5 kids and I thought we were happy. How can you get the truth out of a man who refuses to talk?

RUDY'S WIFE

Dear Wife: The truth is apparent. Why attempt to beat a confession out of him? Your local Family Service Agency offers free counseling and so does this without professional help.

Dear Abby: Do you think our mother is being fair to us kids? She hasn't let our father in the house for four months all over a phone call she got from a person she doesn't even know saying our father had a girlfriend. They have been married 21 years, Abby, and Daddy never stayed out late or did anything wrong. She hasn't any real proof. How can she do such a thing to us?

FATHERLESS

Dear Fatherless: If your mother has locked your father out of the house with—or without—

Wide Profit Swings

By William A. Doyle
Q. I notice that the big steamship companies seem to show good profits. Their stocks pay good dividends, when measured against the market prices of those stocks. The dividend yields on most steamship stocks seem high, when you look at the yields on stocks in other industries.

Is there something about the steamship business that causes this situation? Is it because of greater risk?

A. You have just about put your finger on it with those questions. While steamship business can't be classified as a "feast or famine" industry, it has had some wide profit swings — both up and down.

The steamship business is influenced not only by things that happen in this country but also by things that happen all around the world. To a big degree, it is also influenced by what happens in the halls of Congress. Government subsidies play a large role in this field.

So, historically, steamship stocks have often been available at prices resulting in relatively high dividend yields.

But it is always foolhardy to lump all stocks in any industry together and try to generalize about them. Each stock represents a different company. Some have better prospects than others.

Right now, some people in the financial district feel that certain steamship stocks are good buys — especially from the income angle. But some other observers always shy away from any and all steamship stocks.

Q. If I own U.S. Treasury securities (bonds, notes, bills or savings bonds) do I have to pay state income tax on the interest I receive?

A. No. Just as the Federal government cannot levy income taxes on the interest received from state bonds (and from the bonds of political subdivisions of states), the states cannot levy income taxes on the interest received from U.S. government securities.

Q. I bought 50 shares of stock in a company in 1955, at a total cost of $3,100. At that time dividends were being paid at the rate of $3 on each share each year. The company stopped paying the dividends in 1957.

Can I report these lost dividends on my income tax as bad debts or something?

A. No. Skipped or reduced dividends don't represent anything such as you have in mind.

Dividends paid to stockholders represent earnings distributed to shareholders. When you receive dividends, you must report them on your Federal income tax as ordinary income — after taking your dividend exclusion and dividend credit.

But, when a company cuts or skips the dividend payments, the shareholders don't get any tax break.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Thanksgiving Special Day In Non-American Community

JACK GELINAS

Ex-East Stroudsburg Resident
LAGOS, NIGERIA — To Americans everywhere the last Thursday in November is a very special day. It is Thanksgiving Day. But about the only effect it has on the non-American community (including, in addition to the Nigerians, the British, French, Swiss, Indians, Lebanese, et cetera) here in Lagos, is that the shelves in the local stores have been stripped of such American products as canned pumpkin, frozen pumpkin pies, sweet potatoes and canned sweet potatoes, canned mince-meat, cranberry sauce and all other items that go into making Thanksgiving Day a Thanksgiving in the best American tradition.

Turkey, Chicken Scarce

The occasional imported American turkey and chicken has been as scarce in the Lagos shops these past few weeks as they were before the dollar restrictions were lifted on American imports better than a year ago. The local vendors have been out of the local variety of turkey since a few days after they brought them down from Ilorin in the southern part of the Northern Region, six or seven weeks ago. And many Americans have been attempting to fatten the local, usually scrawny, chicken for just as long.

The start of "our" Thanksgiving rightfully started in the afternoon when Americans of all denominations converge on Lagos Cathedral for a special service of Thanksgiving. The American Embassy here made arrangements for it, and sent every American family in Lagos an official notice. Included in the services was the reading of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day Message to Americans abroad, by our new Ambassador.

After the church services, Barbara and I — and Penny, our little terrier — together with 36 other couples, 23 children (and six other dogs), joined together for a big Thanksgiving Day feast at a private home at Apapa. The wives had been busy preparing it for days now.

Hoarded Pies

Barbara took two pumpkin pies baked from that frozen kind I mentioned (she hoarded them since September), together with a few dozen "made from scratch" cup-cakes and two cans of that cranberry sauce that she bought soon after Thanksgiving a year ago. Barbara wasn't given much in the way of preparation this year, as she dressed and roasted a large chicken last year. It proved to be a good day. But, I can't help but wonder — and it seems that I have been wondering more since I've come abroad — how much of the good things of our everyday lives we as Americans take for granted. And not just on Thanksgiving Day; this special day that was first set aside by our country's founding fathers to thank God for His bounty — but everyday of the year.

I only hope that every American here remembered to offer thanks for all those blessings we as Americans seem too often to take for granted. I think we could well start our list by first of all being thankful that we are Americans.

Zepplin Crash Survivor Dies

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)

—Capt. Max Pruss, 69, who narrowly survived the fiery crash of the dirigible Hindenburg at Lakehurst, N.J., 23 years ago, died of pneumonia yesterday.

He was riding the Hindenburg as its skipper for the first time when the disaster struck at Lakehurst, May 6, 1937.

The great airship was mooring after the Atlantic crossing from Friedrichshafen when an explosion occurred. Within seconds, the hydrogen-filled dirigible disintegrated in a sea of fire, killing 36 of the 97 persons aboard.

Just Between Us—

—By Bobby Westbrook

Seems as if we're backing into winter this year. On Monday it was May with houseflies in the house and the grass still growing; Tuesday we had April, complete with thundershowers; and yesterday was definitely March with winds that could blow your wig off. If it's just the same to you, I'd as soon not have February twice in any year.

I seem to be backing into the news, too. It's amazing what you get into while I'm busy keeping one eye on the holidays and the other on the home water supply.

"I hear there's a possibility of your moving out of the Manse one of these days," I said brightly to John Bollier at the Presbyterian supper last night. They've already moved. Last Tuesday. And their new home is just off the number one tee at Glen Brook. Nothing like being right on top of the news.

Why, I almost missed the news that Ernest Wyckoff is making a flying trip to Korea. He's leaving Friday night and there's a good chance he might be able to take a pre-Christmas greeting to Nancy May who is teaching there.

Anyway, the shock seems to have been good for me. I started getting noisy in earnest and came up with some interesting bits. Dr. Robert Brown acquired that handsome tan swimming in the Caribbean. Arly Williams, being greeted as "Mariene" because of those dark glasses, denies that he's wearing them to hide his tears over the election.

The reason Joyce Pedersen was so dramatically dressed in black at high noon yesterday was because she was on her way to a March of Dimes meeting in Lancaster. And if that rustling in the dovecotes means what I think it means, we ought to have some interesting engagement announcements, come Christmas.

Christmas Concert Tickets Go On Sale

Tickets for "This is Christmas" are now available. The program by the Pocono Community Chorus will be given on Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. at Stroud Union High School sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Members of both the club and chorus have tickets. Reserved seats and general admission tickets will also be on sale the night of the concert.

Children Light Advent Candles At Grace Church

The traditional Advent candle-lighting ceremony began last Sunday in Grace Ev. Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. An altar taper is illuminated on each of the four successive Sundays during the Advent season. Last Sunday at the early communion service, Miss Cheryl Lashak lit the first Advent candle and Donald Werkheiser, Jr., lit it at the second service. Next Sunday Brian and Boyd Butz will light the second Advent candles at the two morning worship services.

Membership Dinner Greet Newcomers To Hadassah

Saying it with flowers, the Stroudsburg chapter of Hadassah presented corsages as well as certificates to the new members at the annual membership dinner meeting held Tuesday in the Temple Israel vestry rooms.

Mrs. Leon Feinsilber, co-chairman of membership with Mrs. Zelma Silverman, made the presentation to: Mrs. Jack Bernbaum, Mrs. Marshall Feinsilber, Mrs. Alan Ginsburg, Mrs. Jack Ginsburg and Mrs. Seymour Schantz. Mrs. Sidney J. Cohen is also a new member.

Ten-year membership certificates were presented to Mrs. Morton Barrow and Mrs. Kurt Wimer. Mrs. Ben Geshensky will receive her certificate later.

Gifts, made by Mrs. Bertha Alberts, were presented to each member. A gift for the chapter was the gold medal, awarded at the meeting of the regional board, for oversubscribing the quota last year. Mrs. Maurice Flesher, who reported on the regional meeting, presented the medal to Mrs. Larry Green, last year's president. Also representing the chapter were Mrs. Alex Blaker and Mrs. Edgar Liebert.

An Oneg Shabbat, honoring the centennial anniversary of Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah, will follow the Friday night services of Temple Israel on Dec. 9. Several young people of the congregation will take part in the services in tribute to Youth Aliyah, a movement also founded by Miss Szold.

Hadassah is the official representative of Youth Aliyah in the United States. The child-rescue movement in the past 25 years has helped to bring 95,000 homeless Jewish children to Israel.

The annual Hadassah Donor Dinner will be held April 13 at Davidukes with Mrs. David Bernbaum and Mrs. Leon Koster as co-chairmen.

A rummage sale will be held next week Monday through Friday, 9 to 7, at 515 Main St., Stroudsburg. Mrs. Erna Eismann, chairman, announced that a large selection of jewelry, toys and clothing has already been received.

The program featured a reading "Someone You Know" with slides, describing the life and ideals of Henrietta Szold was presented. Taking part were Mrs. Barrow, Mrs. Jack Bernbaum, Mrs. Blaker, Mrs. Harry

Scouts Work On Child Care; Plant Daffodils

Delaware Water Gap — Daffodils and child care are among the varied projects of the Girl Scouts who meet Wednesday nights. Last night they added plans for the Christmas program.

The patrol under the leadership of Mrs. Stephen Matos are making presents for children in hospitals as part of their work for Child Care badges.

The younger girls, who just flew up from Brownies, are working for second class badges under the direction of Mrs. Ben Geshensky.

Both patrols worked on the paper drive and have planted spring-blooming daffodils beside the firehall. As part of the Golden Blossom 50th Anniversary of Girl Scouting next year, they plan to mark other historic sites in the community with other flower plantings.

Weller, Mrs. Jeannette Schwartz, Mrs. Jerry Rubin and Mrs. Albert Koster.

The dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Jack Bernbaum, Mrs. Blaker, Mrs. Block, Mrs. Max Fleishman, Mrs. Al Goldstein, Mrs. Morris Jacobson, Mrs. Edgar Liebert and Mrs. Jerry Rubin. Dessert hostesses were Mrs. David Bernbaum, Mrs. Max Blum, Mrs. Ted Cahn, Mrs. Harry Heller and Mrs. Morris Newman.

Mrs. Morris Jacobson, chapter president, announced that there would be no December meeting, with the group meeting next on Jan. 24.

As Senior Scouts, Troop 9 Host To Mothers

When the members of Girl Scout Troop 9 received their Senior pins Tuesday night, they celebrated by entertaining their mothers at a covered dish supper at the Methodist Parish house.

The mothers were guests in more than name only since the girls of the troop prepared the supper and cleaned up afterwards.

Martha Little read the Girl Scout Prayer as an invocation. The program opened with the flag ceremony conducted by Christine Berger, Kathy Cooke, Diane Houck and Diane Staples with Barbara Michaels leading the flag salute, the Scout Promise and the song "Where'er We Make a Promise."

Having completed the eight requirements necessary to earn their senior pins under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Berger, the girls received them in a candlelight ceremony. They will become The Trail Blazers Troop.

Members are Christina Berger, Kathy Cooke, Martha Little, Sandra Randolph, Elaine Bernbaum, Barbara Blitz, Barbara Michaels, Diane Staples and Diane Houck.

Guest of honor was Mrs. Fred Fatzinger who was presented with a Friendship Pin by the whole troop. Mrs. Fatzinger had led the girls through much of their Intermediate Scout work and before that many of them in Brownies.

Mothers present were Mrs. Robert Cooke, Mrs. Robert Stout, Mrs. David Shiffer, Mrs. Rudolph Blitz, Mrs. Eleanor Randolph, Mrs. David Bernbaum and Mrs. Robert Staples.

Reimels Host At Family Dinner

Mothers Club Gets Busy With Projects For Y

The newly-reorganized Mothers Club of the YMCA has already started one project, the sale of candy, and at their meeting this week planned to hold a rummage sale later in the winter.

A Christmas party will be held at the December meeting which was advanced to Dec. 13. Elsie Pedersen, Rose Schoch and Alice Baujan will share hostess duties.

Did you ever have trouble making a perfect roll with your hands with refrigerator cookie dough? It's much easier to press dough into frozen juice cans. When you're ready to bake, just open other end of can, and it will push out easily so it's a cinch to slice perfect circles.

Here's a recipe for Butter-scotch Cookies that are crunchy and good:

2 cups light brown sugar; 2 eggs; 1 teaspoon baking soda; 1 teaspoon cream of tartar; 1 cup soft shortening (part butter adds more flavor); 3 cups all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon baking soda; 1 cup nut meats.

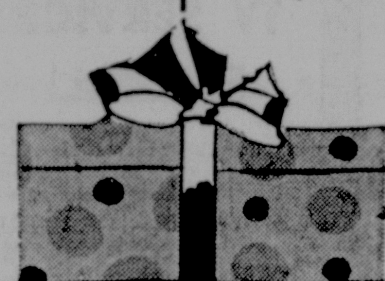

Cream shortening and gradually add sugar. Add eggs one at a time unbeaten. Blend in sifted dry ingredients. Stir in chopped nuts. Pack dough into frozen juice cans and freeze until needed. When ready to bake, cut in 1/4 inch slices and bake at 375 for 10-12 minutes. Makes about 80 cookies.

WSCS Groups To Combine For Christmas Dinner

South Sterling — The South Sterling and Hemlock Grove Woman's Society of Christian Service will have a joint Christmas dinner at noon on December 8, with the South Sterling women as guests of the Greentown group at Hemlock Grove.

This is an annual event, with the units alternately serving as hostesses for the dinner and gift exchange and program.

During the South Sterling WSCS business meeting at the hall at which Mrs. Clarence Skelton presided, it was voted to hold no more evening meetings until March. The December meeting will be the Christmas party; the January session is the annual turkey dinner meeting at the hall.

Members of the Greentown-Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship had charge of the program, detailing the work of the local MYF unit. Donna Bartleson led the worship service and described the services held by the young people in their weekly meetings. Jane Beehn detailed the fellowship program of the MYF. William Smith told about sub-district and district activities.

Bonnie Rohrbacher and Rita Rohrbacher, accompanied at the organ by Jane Beehn, sang "Living For Jesus."

Other young people present were Joan Bancroft and James Hinton. The group was introduced by their advisor, Mrs. Fred Bancroft, Jr.

WSCS members present were

The Wyckoff Shopper

At I write, it's Tuesday afternoon. Pete Wyckoff has just informed Betty Bartholomew that he thinks I'm more excited than I was on my wedding day. "Every time I look at Madalyn today, she's going in two directions," he says . . . and he's right. I'm unraveling at the seams trying to get a column written . . . radio saturation down to the studio . . . thank you notes scribbled . . . other mail answered . . . and keep the jangling telephone quiet.

Tonight, you see, is our Wyckoff party at Buck Hill. And it's raining. Ever since Thanksgiving I've been writing a script and working with Pete trying to cast it, make it run smoothly, and round up the props. Donna Sandt and I have been making the typewriters jingle like mad . . . and everyone has gotten into the act, happily or reluctantly as the case might be. Just a few minutes ago, before the truck set out for Buck Hill, I had a tea wagon . . . mustard . . . ketchup . . . and jelly in my office along with boxes of heaven only knows what else.

One visitor exclaimed—"I thought this was to be a banquet at Buck Hill. Don't tell me they're serving hamburger and hot dogs!"

"Of course not," I said. "The relishes go with a sketch we're doing. 'When we dine at Buck Hill we really dine . . . and since we all know it, we're working up good healthy appetites.'"

I do wish our customers could attend one of our Wyckoff parties. Our programs are always fun, and we enjoy them even though, to some outsiders, it might seem that we've suddenly been bereft of our senses. This year's idea revolves around an evening of television . . . but Pete said "no" when I suggested a "This Is Your Life" or "Father Knows Best," dedicated to our store "Papa," Mr. Wyckoff. Oh well, "PAPA" does know best where his store family is concerned . . . and I'd be the first to admit it.

As I write, the rain is teeming down and the store is teeming with customers taking advantage of the final day of our pre-Christmas sale. One of the busiest places to be is our lingerie department, where women are finding Cora's bargains irresistible. Jewelry is pretty busy too, with Doris Hinton so rushed she can hardly find time for a rehearsal. (Doris is one of our beautiful but dumb contestants on To Tell the Truth.)

Incidentally, I can't think of any gift more acceptable than a piece of jewelry . . . can you? Even though a woman's jewel chest is overflowing with earrings and bangles, she still can find a time and a place to wear something new and glittery. And somehow, Christmas calls for sparkle and brilliance, don't you agree? When you think of gifts for girls of my age, think of Wyckoff's jewelry department . . . and if you have something precious in mind at a not-too-precious price, consider AMBER . . . a genuine gem, rich in color and in legend.

Amber too, is the color of most perfume . . . and what a sweet scented place our cosmetic department is! Right inside the door, I am afraid that sometimes we overlook this convenient location when we consider gifts for men. But fastidious men also like good quality toiletries, handsomely packaged. And Wyckoff's has 'em.

Now, let's see what else is on my mind this busy day: oh yes, a word about how pleasantly surprised I was to receive an invitation to the Pocono Garden Club Christmas banquet on December 13th . . . I'm appreciative and I'll be there; an invitation too from St. James' PTA of Easton to display my Madonnas there on the 14th . . . another invitation to address the Mother-Daughter dinner of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church on Tuesday the 6th, the very night I'm also to be a judge at the Monroe County Philatelic Society's exhibit at Stroud Union High School . . . and, on the 8th, a luncheon of the Bushkill Garden Club.

Pete's right . . . I'm going in two directions at once. That's why, when this column's final period is in place, I'm off for at least a few days of pulling myself together!

Wolslayer, Becker And Brown

3 ESSC Gridders On Little All-America

DICK WOLSLAYER, Ed Becker and Sterling Brown of East Stroudsburg State College, have been picked for honorable mention in the 1960 Associated Press Little All-America Football Team.

It is the second time this week that the three have been honored for their football ability. Monday, Wolslayer, a center and Becker an end, were picked on first team of the State College Conference All-Star Squad and Brown, a guard, was a second team choice.

At the same time the Little All-America team was announced, the final ballot for the All-State College team was also released. Becker, Wolslayer and Brown were placed on the ballot. The team will be picked next week.

Wolslayer, an East Stroudsburg High School graduate and Brown from Hanover, are seniors. Becker from Quakertown, is a junior.

Two Way Players

All three of the Warriors played both offense and defense for coach

Jack Gregory. Wolslayer led the team in tackles, followed by Becker and Brown. Becker was the leading pass receiver. Brown and Wolslayer were the co-captains.

East Stroudsburg allowed only 70 yards per game on the ground in nine outings this season, which ranked the Warriors in the top ten in that department among small colleges.

No team was able to gain plus yardage around, through or over Becker a 6-3, 215 pounder, who earned the nickname "Road Block," for his defensive ability.

Wolslayer has been called the "best defensive player in the conference" by Gregory and West Chester Coach Jim Bonder.

Against West Chester, Wolslayer made 35 tackles, 15 of them unassisted. He was voted the outstanding player in the game by the press and radio men covering the game.

Were Brite Stars

Wolslayer was picked by the Daily Record as the "Brite Star of the Week" for his play in the game. Becker made the "Brite" list following the Warriors opening game against Millersville.

Brown weighs only 185 pounds and is not exceptionally fast but "he pushes himself every minute," says Gregory "and overcomes his physical shortcomings with hustle."

Only 13 State College Conference players were picked on the Little All-America honorable mention team. Fullback Joe Lacone of West Chester was named to the second team.

Paul Terhes, Dale Mills, Charles Fuller and Bill (Cannonball) Cooper make up the backfield on the first team.

The team includes a repeat performer, Tennessee Tech end Tom Hackler, who was honored a year ago. John Simko of Augustana, S. D., College is the other flanker.

Interior linemen Dick Green, 233-pound Ohio University center, and Doug Brown, 246-pound Fresno State guard, already have been drafted by professional clubs.

Tackles Charley Long of Chattanooga and Willie Crafts, of Texas A&I plus Iowa State Teachers' guard George Asleson complete the team.

Led Bucknell Quarterback Terhes was the versatile, guiding hand of the Bucknell Bison. An exceptional defender, the 195-pound Pennsylvania also wound up the campaign with 87 completions in 155 pass attempts for 981 yards and nine touchdowns. The left halfback from Northeast Missouri State Teachers garnered 1,343 rushing yards and scored over 400 points.

Nicknamed "Lomado" for his terrific breakaway speed, Fuller of San Francisco State averaged 7.2 yards per carry. He set a school mark of 892 yards from scrimmage and hauled in 13 passes for another 182. He had 104 points to Mills' 118.

Cooper of Muskingum rushed for 1,102 yards and scored 23 touchdowns and 152 points.

Hewitt Is Lineman Of Week

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Midshipman John Hewitt sings in the Naval Academy choir and dabbles with paints occasionally, but his mild manner ends on the football field.

Hewitt, 5 feet 11, 187-pound anchor in the middle forward wall, Wednesday was named AP lineman of the week for his play in Navy's 17-12 victory over Army. The Middies accepted an Orange Bowl invitation to meet Missouri Jan. 2 immediately after the game.

The junior from Belle Vernon, Pa., has been described by Coach Wayne Hardin as the man "who springs (Joe) Bellino loose for most of his runs." Bellino is Navy's Heisman Trophy winner.

"It's really great blocking for Joe," Hewitt said Wednesday, "because when you complete a good block, you have the satisfaction that he'll get that extra 10 or 15 yards."

Hewitt has given Bellino the edge for that extra yardage more than once this season. In the Virginia game, he cleared the key man on Bellino's 9-yard touchdown romp. Hewitt also opened the way for teammate Joe in two long runs against Notre Dame.

AL Delays Expansion Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball's top brass met for more than five hours Wednesday in the office of Commissioner Ford Frick in an attempt to draft an amendment that would clear the way for a 10-team American League in 1961.

When the meeting was adjourned, Frick's office said only that there would be another meeting Thursday.

In the session with the commissioner were American League President Joe Cronin, National League President Warren Giles, and attorneys representing all three offices.

"There will be no statement of progress," a spokesman for the commissioner said. "There will be another meeting tomorrow."

Before they went into session this morning, the three officials said they had agreed not to make any statement because both Giles and Cronin must report back to their leagues.

Any agreement reached on an amendment would not be disclosed until after it is presented for consideration at the major league meetings opening Monday in St. Louis, Frick said.

Minor League Studies Rule On Draftings

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Baseball's minor leagues turn to their own affairs to vote on such matters as a college rule and the draft of first year players.

While the major league presidents and Commissioner Ford Frick wrestled with the major's expansion headaches at a top level conference in New York, the minors thumbed through 33 amendments to be considered Thursday.

It appeared likely that professional baseball and the colleges finally would get together on some protection against raiding the college campus for athletes. It also seemed probable that the rule requiring all first-year players to be subject to the draft would be extended for one more year. The usual attempts to curb big league baseball TV into minor league territory might pass the minors but were sure to be rejected by the majors next week.

George Trautman, president of the National Association (minors) was confident a college rule would be passed. For many years the colleges and pro operators have been feuding about the signing of boys still eligible for college baseball or football.

Under the amendment, no college baseball player, under 21, could be signed or given a tryout during the school year. However, he could be signed during the summer vacation period. A major-minor committee also would survey the summer amateur baseball league for college players in cooperation with the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The so-called "first year player" rule has been in effect only two years. All players entering pro baseball are eligible for the draft at the close of their first year, unless they have been moved up to a big league roster. Most of the big $100,000 bonus boys, of course, are protected by being moved up to the big league club. Those left in the minors can be drafted for $12,000. This year a total of 39 first-year men clog big league rosters.

Harness Applications To Be Mailed In January

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Harness Racing Commission Wednesday said it hopes to begin mailing final applications for pari-mutuel betting tracks about Jan. 1.

M. Joseph Lynch, executive secretary, said the first part of the application will be sent to the 11 groups which have filed preliminary licenses to operate tracks. Commission members reviewed the preliminary applications at a meeting they held Monday while in New York for a harness writers dinner. Another meeting is planned for Dec. 14.

"All 11 applicants will receive the first part of the final forms to give us complete information on financing of the groups and the names of all their members," Lynch said, adding:

"The second part of the final application—which will request complete details on physical aspects of proposed tracks—will not necessarily be sent to all 11 groups. The weeding out process may begin after we receive the first part of the form."

Lynch said Monday's meeting dealt primarily with the commissions budget. The legislature allocated $35,000 to get the commission started, but Lynch said that money will run out by the end of the year.

"We'll have to have more money by January," he added.

Asked whether any attempt would be made to amend the harness racing law to spell out the exact number of tracks which may operate, Lynch said:

"There is no plan to do so now. The commission takes the position it has discretion to authorize up to four tracks, less if it sees fit."

Working of the law pertaining to the number of tracks has caused some confusion. The law states that only four licenses may be issued, but it is unclear whether a licensee may operate more than one track.

Voters of six counties approved in referendum last April operation of tracks within their boundaries.

"We'll have to have more money by January," he added.

Palmer Heads Top Golfers In Florida

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer heads one of the best fields of the year in the $15,000 West Palm Beach Open golf tournament starting Thursday.

Palmer, winner of the Masters and the U.S. Open this year, last Sunday won the $2,000 top money in the Mobile Open to boost his Tropical Park race track, paid a record take for one year. Only a handful of the "name" players are missing, including Bob Rosburg, Gene Littler, Ken Venturi, Doug Sanders and Jay Hebert. The 72-hole tournament will end Sunday.

Richardson Elected IL President

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Thomas H. Richardson, president of the Eastern League for 26 years, was elected president of the International League Wednesday. He was given a one-year contract at $15,000.

Richardson's election, announced by Frank Horton, president of the Rochester club, was unanimous.

Richardson, 65, said he hoped Harry Simmons, league secretary, would remain in his position. Simmons was regarded as one of the leading candidates for the president's job.

Richardson said the league office would be moved from Montreal to one of the other league cities to be determined later. His home is in Williamsport, Pa.

He will call an Eastern League meeting soon to announce his resignation. He broke into baseball as a general manager at Williamsport in 1923.

Hershey Bears Push For Fourth

THE HERSEY Bears, with a pair of games at Quebec City this week, hope to break even on the current road trip of six games.

The Bears added two points to move ahead of Rochester over the weekend, just one point out of fourth place. The Bears eight to two win over the Providence Reds found rookie winger Warren Hynes scoring four goals to pace the Bears to the victory.

The Bears received bad news from the team doctor, when it was learned star center Willie Marshall had a broken bone in his ankle. Marshall will be out of action 4 to 6 weeks. In 17 games, he has scored 7 goals and 18 assists for 25 points.

Ray Kinasevich continues to lead the Bears in the scoring department with 14 goals, and 12 assists for a total of 26 points. Three other Bears have now scored 10 goals, Claude Laforet, Warren Hynes and Jack McIntyre.

The Bears and the Quebec Aces have split on their two previous meetings, both on Hershey ice. This is the first trip to the Canadian province for the Bears, and they will be trying to add to their league points against the Aces. Playing coach, Fleming McKell has resigned as the mentor of the Aces, but will stay on as a center, after the Aces dropped seven straight games, and slipped from a tie with Springfield to fourth place.

The Bears return to home ice on December 7th against the leading Springfield Indians.

Sophomores Buddy Lawrence, at 157 lbs. and Charles Dentith, 147 lbs. were to see action. Dentith is former ESSC state champ who has returned to the institution after several years in the Navy.

Others to see action in the rehearsal are Stan Woods, Don Schleicher, newcomer George Kayal, Pat Rock, and Mel Williams.

Holy Cross Turns Down Gotham Bowl

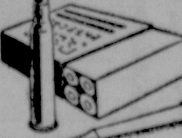

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Holy Cross authorities Wednesday declined to accept a re-issued invitation to play Oregon State in the Dec. 10 Gotham Bowl in New York.

The invitation was extended, then withdrawn, Tuesday, just minutes before the Crusader football team was to vote on acceptance.

Bob Ready, of the bowl's selection committee, came to Worcester Wednesday to re-offer the bowl berth, but met with no enthusiasm.

Ready conferred with Holy Cross officials. The invitation was declined.

Ready left immediately for New York. He said he would have no statement.

175 Bears Killed On Opening Day

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Game Commission yesterday reported that at least 175 bears were killed on the opening day of Pennsylvania's six-day bear hunting season.

"Generally speaking, it was a good opener," a commission spokesman said.

Last year a total of 296 bears were reported taken during the season. The figure was 143 less than the previous year.

"The bears are there," the spokesman said. "A good many of the bears taken were large bears, from 300 pounds up."

A total of 39 bears were reported killed in the northeast section of the state during the first day of shooting Monday. Thirty-five others were reported in the northwest section and at least 101 were reported in the north-central section.

Lycoming County had the most bears killed the first day with a total of 25, the commission said. Cameron County had 21 reported killed and Tioga had 17.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. Write in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

State To Fix Legislative Reapportionment In 1961

HARRISBURG (AP)—With the headcount of Pennsylvanians now official, the state's lawmakers now have the tools with which to tackle the thorny task of legislative reapportionment next year.

To no one's surprise, the figures from the U.S. Census Bureau showed that many Pennsylvanians shifted to the suburbs in the past decade. And for the legislature that creates the problem of how to give the growing suburbs their share of representation as prescribed by the state constitution.

To solve this, legislators would have to surrender both rural and urban, but mainly urban, seats in the House and mostly rural seats in the Senate.

If the lawmakers follow the census in their reapportioning task, you would have a picture like this:

A net loss of five House seats in predominantly Democratic counties; a net gain of six House seats in GOP-dominated counties; a loss of two seats in counties (Clearfield and Schuylkill) whose seats now are split evenly between the two parties.

A gain of one Senate seat each in Allegheny, Delaware and Montgomery counties — gains which would have to be made at the expense of the sparsely populated rural areas since the constitution fixes the number of senatorial districts at 50.

A separate Senate seat each for Beaver and Washington counties (seats which possibly could be arranged by reshuffling the districts in which these counties are now located, without subtracting seats elsewhere).

A possible loss of individual Senate seats for Luzerne, Fayette and Schuylkill counties (because their official population does not meet the constitutional requirements for separate districts).

Whether the legislature follows the census outline and rearranges its seats is another question. The constitution says it must do so after every census but there is no penalty for failure to comply. The Senate seats actually have been reapportioned only once (1906) in 86 years; the House four times (the last in 1953).

The constitution provides that there shall be one House seat for every ratio of population, which is the statewide total divided by 200, or for 1961, 56,597. In addition, every county must have a representative, no matter how small. And each county with less than five representatives is entitled to an additional representative for an additional half-ratio (28,298 persons).

That accounts for the excess over 200 seats. The present membership is 210, which will be divided in 1961: 110 Democrats, 100 Republicans.

On that basis, the following counties stand to gain seats as indicated (present representation in parentheses): Beaver (3), Chester (3), Franklin (1), Lancaster (4) and Westmoreland (5), one each; Bucks (3) and Delaware (7), two each; Montgomery (6), three.

Losing seats would be: Armstrong (2), Blair (3), Clearfield (2), Crawford (2), Fayette (4), Lackawanna (5), Luzerne (7), Schuylkill (4) and Somerset (2), one each; Philadelphia (39), four.

Unmistakably new... unmistakably Thunderbird

ON DISPLAY TODAY IN OUR SHOWROOM

Now, for 1961, Thunderbird presents a bold new adventure in the Thunderbird spirit. Its dramatically beautiful design and engineering excellence will furnish inspiration to car designers for years to come.

It preserves all of the features that mean Thunderbird—the 4-passenger luxury, the incomparable sports car handling and dazzling performance, the famous Thunderbird console.

At the same time, this is a beautifully new automotive invention. You will discover in it features like the optional Swing-Away Wheel that you have never seen before. There are new reserves of effortless Thunderbird power. And under its familiar trim dimensions the new Thunderbird has an even wider tread and new suspension — with the result that this car rides and handles like an agile cloud.

Not a hair wider, nor a tenth of an inch longer, yet you'll marvel at the many truly remarkable improvements and refinements throughout the new Thunderbird. Seats are bigger, more comfortable. Door openings are wider. Luggage compartment opening is wider, lower, with over 20 cu. ft. of loading space. The body has a special three-phase rust prevention treatment—the finest in the industry.

Advanced engineering of this quality has made Thunderbird virtually timeless. Combined with the Thunderbird's unique beauty, it explains why this car has the finest resale record of any luxury car. It is also the reason Haynes Motors and Ford Motor Company is extending the warranty to 12,000 miles or one full year, whichever comes first.

See Haynes Motors today and let us show you a copy of our warranty. And then treat yourself to a test flight in the unmistakably new '61 Thunderbird!

Green Thumb Tip -- Water Evergreens Before Ground Freezes

By George Abraham
GREEN THUMB WARNING — Friends, if you live in an area which has not had normal rainfall we'd like to remind you to water your newly set evergreens (and non-evergreens) well before the ground freezes. These plants will come through the winter a lot better if the soil is moist.

After you've watered the plants sufficiently mulch them with a three-inch layer of sawdust, peat-moss, cocopeat, shells, buck-wheat hulls or whatever mulch you prefer, to trap moisture in the ground. If water is scarce, don't hesitate to use laundry water, bath water, or dishwater. These are harmless even if they contain soaps or detergents.

House Plants Again
One reason why your house plants start acting up in fall and winter is because of lack of fresh air and moist atmosphere. These factors are just as important for house plant health as they are to human health. Escaping gases from stoves and furnaces are real plant enemies, even if they cannot be detected with the human nose. Whenever possible, provide moist, fresh air (not cold drafts) to house plants.

Most hot-air furnaces have humidifiers which should be kept filled with water. Some radiators have specially constructed pans on top or back for holding water. Also, specially constructed plant stands or tables with metal-lined trays containing a layer of moist sand or gravel are helpful. Also, sprinkling or syringing plants on bright days is helpful in giving plants a boost. Next week: How a Plant doctor waters plants.

Scrapbook

Ever come across the term "Axil" in a leaf, and wonder what it was? A leaf axil is a point between a leaf and stem, or where the leaf attaches to the stem. Usually you find a dormant bud in the axil.

Something New

Gardeners who fell in love with the Gloriosa daisy can look forward to something even better in 1961, the Gloriosa Double Daisy, a hardy perennial which blooms from seed the first year. This big golden yellow daisy grows up to 4 1/2 inches across (the 'single blooms up to seven inches across) on stems two to three feet tall. Like the single Gloriosa, it holds up well in vase arrangements, is easy to grow.

The yellow dahlia-like daisies should be more handsome than the singles, and we are looking for a big demand for new hybrid All-America Selection. For early summer and fall blooms, you can sow seed in the ground in spring and transplant seedlings when they are two inches high.

The only insects which bothered my Gloriosa daisies this year were aphids, and if all insects were as easy to banish as these, we'd have nothing to worry about. . . . The old standby, Nicotine sulfate, is still one of the best aphid killers we have.

Question Box

Question of the week: H. K. of Stroudsburg: "I'm fond of the Rex Begonia but do not have any luck with them. What causes the leaves to turn brown. I'd appreciate information as to care."

The Rex begonia is one of the most brilliant and regal of all foliage plants. While they usually flower in late fall or winter, the flowers are secondary to the handsome foliage. The soil should be large, leafmold and slightly acid. Sand compost, peat can be mixed together for a good mixture. Feeding frequently with a liquid plant food is much superior to an occasional overdose of plant foods.

If you live in a hardware area, you're apt to run into trouble unless you acidify the water by adding aluminum sulfate or common alum, 1/4 ounce to a gallon of water. The soil should be kept moist at all times, but never soggy. It won't do a bit of harm to syringe the leaves on hot days.

Rex begonias will need repotting from time to time as the rhizomes are apt to become elongated and unsightly. To repot, work the old soil away and replace with a new mixture around the thin, hair-like roots. I've seen some Rex begonias growing in sphagnum or moss covered wire baskets. Good drainage is a must at all times.

regardless of the material you use for growing the Rex.

The Rex has few insect or disease pests. Aphids, spider and mealybugs sometimes become troublesome. Washing the foliage with a fine spray will help keep these pests down. If not, spray with malathion. Gardeners interested in starting ADD-TIP-Water Evergreens new Rex Begonias should resort to leaf cuttings or by cutting the rhizome (rootstock).

The leafstem may be inserted in moist sand where it will root in about three weeks. Or you can place an entire flat leaf on sand, pin it down with hair pins and get new plants started. If you want to get new varieties, starting by seed is the only way. Seed may be started on a moist brick placed in shallow water, or you can sow directly on a leafmold seed bed.
